

Uassist.ME Launches New Integrated Service For E-commerce Businesses in the United States

Uassist.ME is an award-winning BPO company that provides integrated services for efficient business operations.

MIAMI, November 24th, 2020 - Uassist.ME launched an all-in-one e-commerce management service solution. Their main aim is to assist small and medium e-business owners with customer service, marketing, web development, store management, and back-office support. This service aims to remove repetitive and time-consuming tasks from business leaders' hands and enable them to invest their time in growing their online business instead.

This is what Uassist.ME's Co-Founder had to say about the new service:

"How business leaders allocate their time and effort is vital for the company's success. We've come up with an integrated solution for e-commerce stores so that they can focus on growth. We're thrilled with this new service launch." -Alfredo Atanacio, Co-Founder of Uassist.ME

Specialized, bilingual (English/Spanish) teams are leading the e-commerce management service at Uassist.ME. They are currently operating from El Salvador and have more than ten years of experience managing and growing e-stores around the United States. Some of the main advantages of the service include:

- being flexible & scalable,
- cost-effective and custom-made for each client's needs across a wide range of industries.

The goal of the e-commerce management services by Uassist.ME is to offer an integrated solution. They have developed what we could call a one-stop-e-commerce services shop for business owners to find everything they need for running a successful and profitable online business.

You can find a tailored pricing range in this service, based on each online store's needs and order-volume. If you're interested in learning more about E-commerce Management Services by Uassist.ME you can visit <https://ecommerce.uassistme.com/>
